

First Technical Publications on the RAMAC 305 System (published in 1956)

These are two associated papers on the RAMAC System entitled

The Random-Access Memory Accounting Machine

(part 1 and part 2)

and are each linked with one of the two slides that follow.

(Reference: IBM Journal of Research and Development Vol. 44 No. 1/2, 2000}

The term RAMAC was later identified as standing for:

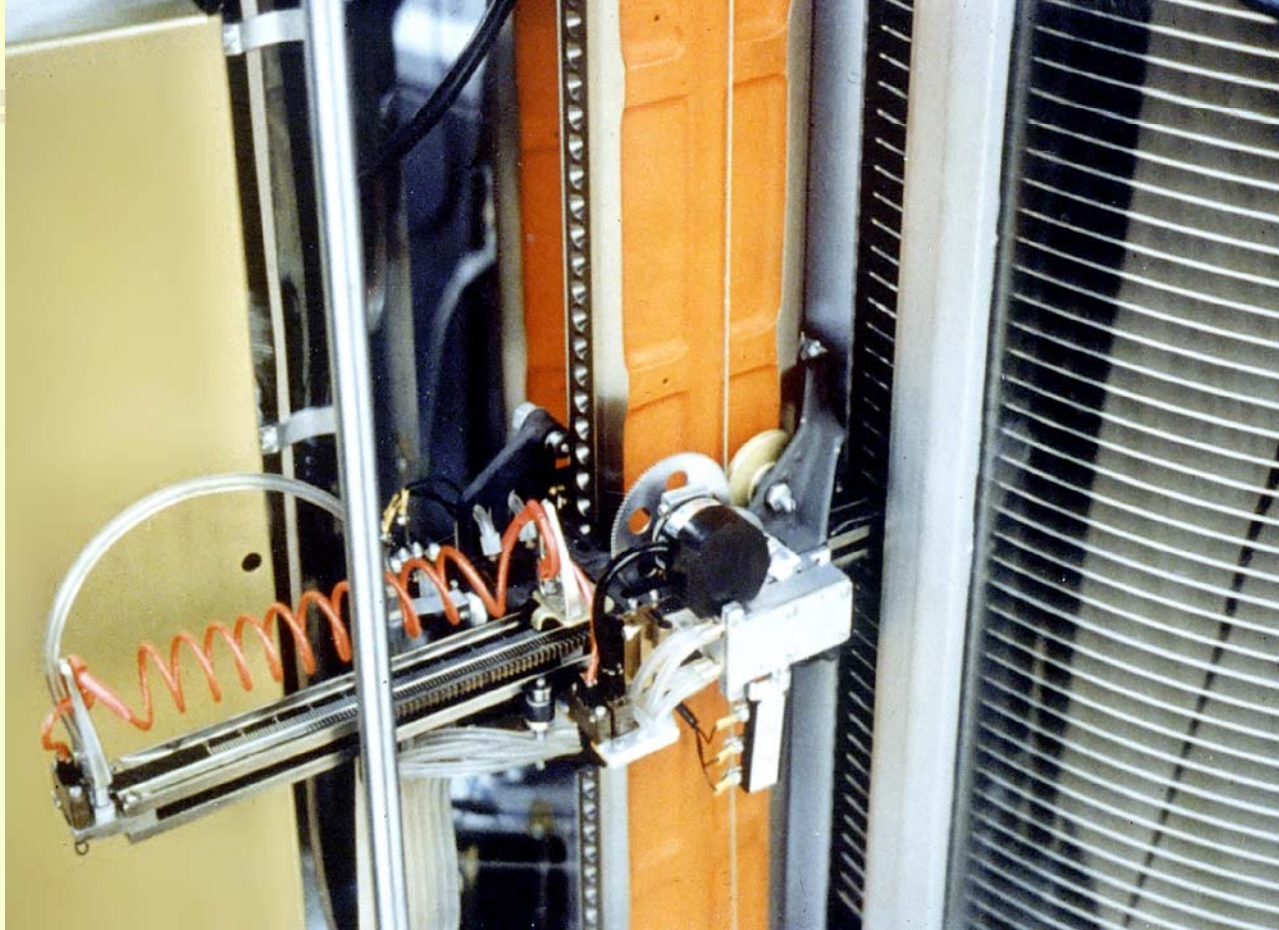

Random Access Method of Accounting and Control

IBM 305 RAMAC SYSTEM

Paper 1. The Random-Access Accounting machine
Systems Organization of the IBM 305
Authors: M. L. Lesser and J. W. Haanstra

IBM RAMAC 350 DISK DRIVE

Paper 2. The Random-Access Memory Accounting machine
The Magnetic-Disk, Random-Access Memory
Authors: T. Noyes and W. E. Dickinson

2/28/05

Magnetic Disk Heritage Center

ASH